AUTHOR APPLICATION FOR
PRELAW REVIEW PUBLICATION 2016-2017

Instructions: Please fill out the following application and attach it to your paper; the application will act as your cover sheet. Your application and paper are due to byuprelawreview@gmail.com or by hard copy to the Prelaw Advisement Center (3328 WSC) by 5:00 pm on Thursday, June 30th. Late applications will NOT be accepted. Applicants will be notified of their acceptance status via e-mail by mid-July.

If you are selected for the publication board you must register for StDev 398R for both Fall 2016 and Winter 2017 semesters. The class is scheduled to meet every Tuesday and Thursday at 2:00 pm for 50 minutes. You must be available to attend both semesters of class to be on the board. Each semester will be worth two credits and your grade will be based on your performance on the board. Further grading criteria will be distributed on the first day of class. If selected, you will be given an add code on the first class period of each semester (or potentially prior to the first day of class).

By accepting the offer to be a part of Prelaw Review, you will be committed to serve from September 2016-April 2017. The workload of an author will vary significantly, depending on the quality of your paper at the time of submission and how much work must be done to get it ready for publication; however, an average of around 3-6 hours per week can be expected. Additionally, if you are an author, you are not eligible to be an editor for the 2016-2017 edition of the journal.

Please contact byuprelawreview@gmail.com if you have any further questions.
