

AUTHOR APPLICATION FOR PRELAW REVIEW PUBLICATION 2017-2018

Instructions: Please fill out the following application and attach it to your paper; the application will act as your cover sheet. Your application and paper are due to byuprelawreview@gmail.com or by hard copy to the Prelaw Advisement Center (3328 WSC) by 5:00 pm on Friday, June 30th. Late applications will NOT be accepted. Applicants will be notified of their acceptance via e-mail mid-July or earlier depending on when their application is received.

If you are selected for the publication board you must register for StDev 398R for both Fall 2017 and Winter 2018 semesters. The class is scheduled to meet every Tuesday and Thursday from 2:00 pm to 2:50 pm. You must be available to attend both semesters of class to be on the board. Each semester will be worth two credits and your grade will be based on your performance on the board. Further grading criteria will be distributed on the first day of class. If selected, you will be given an add code on the first class period of each semester (or potentially prior to the first day of class).

By accepting the offer to be a part of Prelaw Review, you will be committed to serve from September 2017-April 2018. The workload of an author will vary significantly, depending on the quality of your paper at the time of submission and how much work must be done to get it ready for publication; however, an average of around 3-6 hours per week can be expected. Additionally, if you are an author, you are not eligible to be an editor for the 2017-2018 edition of the journal.

Please contact byuprelawreview@gmail.com if you have any further questions.

The Prelaw Review will require an average of about 3-6 hours, including 2 hours of class time, per week, though some weeks may require more time. Please list any activities, employment, etc., that may potentially affect your ability to make this time commitment.
